A FINE RACE ON THE DELAWARE—WILLIE KLEINZ, MINNIE AND BALL, JR., WINNERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 4, 1876.

A regatta, under the auspices of the Philadelphia Yacht Club, came off on the Delaware to-day. It was one of the largest, if not the largest, ever sailed on river—fifty yachts being entered. The cruise was from Creedmore park to a ten mile point and return, each boat going twice over the course. The leading prizes were won by the Willie Kleinz, Minnie and Ball, Jr.

The question as to whether the Goddard or the Philadelphia is entitled to the honors in the entries from the Quaker City Club is in dispute and will be determining to-morrow evening.

YACHTING NOTES.

DANIEL O'LEARY'S DEPARTURE.

Daniel O'Leary, the pedestrian, who recently walked 500 miles inside of six days at the Rink, on Third avenue, leaves to-day on the steamer Idaho for Europe, accompanied by his business agent, Mr. Tansey. Mr. O'Leary has challenged Mr. Vaughan to walk twenty-four hours in 48 hours for £500 or $1,000. Mr. O'Leary's money has been deposited at Bell's Life office, in London.

cemented the friendship which ought to and has so long existed between us, and, though we are come to fight, it is a friendly battle between brother and brother. If we as hardy sars to hope, we win, and America's men come back to take our laurels from us, you will have cause to congratulate them. In fact, your hearty good wishes for our success will give you cause for joy whichever way it goes, (laughter and applause)
 The time will come, I trust, when not only this, but all other differences between mankind, will be settled in friendly contest. (Cheers.)

Speeches followed by Messrs. Robert Gordon, Judge McAlam, R. W. Cameron, General Shaler and others.
 Songs and music interspersed a long programme of toasts, and the end was far from near when this report was finished.

A CARD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4, 1876.
 TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—
 A statement appeared in the Sunday morning papers that I was engaged in a pigeon match at Long Branch the day previous. Allow me to contradict as I was not at the Grand Central Hotel, and, even if had been there, I should not have taken part in the contest. By inserting this you will greatly oblige, very truly yours,
 W. A. PERRY.

Adrian Freudenreich's Band of New York, the Russian Volkeist Society of New York, the Eureka Loyalist Working Club of New York, the Atlantic Smoking Club of New York, the New York City German Club, the New York, the Hamburger Club of New York, the North German Club of Greenpoint, the Am Hagener Club of New York, the German American Club, and the Milk Dealers' Guard of New York.

At about four o'clock the formal opening of the Volksfest took place, with representatives of the visiting societies and of the city to be seen. The guests were received by the officers of the fest. The latter were—John E. Kottman, President; Anthony Meyer, First Vice President; Herman Braunmohr, Second Vice President; Herman Schwart, Secretary; H. Roetger, Assistant Secretary; Henry Inkermann, Corresponding Secretary; and Joseph H. Kottman, Financial Secretary. John F. W. Mangels, Treasurer.

President Kottman made a brief speech of welcome to the delegation of societies, and the whole party afterwards marched through the different portions of the park.

THE BAKERS HOCKEY.

The great feature of the day's entertainment, and the German wedding took place at five o'clock. The affair was rendered all the more interesting from the fact of its genuine nature. It was a bona fide marriage, and the bride and groom were both natives of the city of Philadelphia, and Alfred Dehnhack, of Hoboken. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Snyder, of the New York German Lutheran church. The scene of the wedding was in a large hall of the German Lander home which has been erected in the park, complete in every inward and outward detail. The wedding procession, which was up to the hour of the wedding, consisted of a band of music and a crowd of peasant men, dressed in velvet holiday costumes. Then followed two waltzes, which contained a number
